

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

SIAMESE TWINS
RIGHT AT HOME

You generally can depend on Herb Elmore, Greencastle's high powered street commissioner, who "blackface orchestras" a bit, on the side, for a good story when you need it most. Herb always is "coming through" with something or other, so the other day when he grasped me by the arm and said "come with me," I knew something out of the ordinary was about to occur. After we were nestled down comfortably in the big deep cushioned seat of my high powered coupe, which goes by the name of Henry, he opened up a bit. "You have seen Siamese Twins, haven't you," asked Herb. "I sure have," said I. "I have seen them or it in a circus." "Well, why go to a circus to see Siamese twins, when you have them right here in our City of Opportunity," asked the big boy. "Siamese twins here in Greencastle!" says I. "Come on and uncover." By this time we were on north College avenue and headed straight for Barnaby's Mill. But we did not get to the mill, for just before we reached the switch tracks, Elmore commanded me to stop and when he commands he is just that big that you don't even argue. "Get out" said he and I got. Then he led me to the west side of the street and pointed to an elm tree. "Take a look" said he. And there it was as true as I am a liar. Two distinct Elm trees joined together about four feet from the ground with a limb about three feet long. The limb, at least six inches in diameter forms a cross bar, joining the trees together. And you cannot tell from which tree it originally came. In fact it's a true "Siamese" connection and nature-faking is no disease with me.

GREENCASTLE MAN
PLANS HUNTING PRESERVE

Mort Marshall, of the Marshall Cement and Grain Co., corner Vine and Walnut streets, is planning the establishment of a hunting preserve. At least his actions would indicate as much. Yesterday afternoon he approached me with an offer to allow me to hunt ducks on Vine street just in front of his store if I would furnish the decoys. At first I believed he was joking but upon investigation I found a large pond right at his door step. So all he needs to make a perfect hunting preserve is some decoys to "coax" in the ducks.

I have been approached by two individuals, whom I have always considered my friends, inviting me to take with them a hunting trip to Louisiana in quest of duck, geese, bear and deer. And I would be tempted to accept, except that every time they urge me to go I imagine I can detect a mysterious grin on their faces, which indicates to me that they have something up their sleeves. In fact I would like to go along, but way down deep in my better judgment I fear for my peace of mind should I accompany them.

Thanks, L. C., for the suggestion that I go to Indianapolis to see Will Rogers in his motion picture. Your message was delivered to me by Mrs. A., who informed me that as she intended going to Indianapolis within the next few days, she could see the show and tell me about it when she got home. The last time I saw Bill, was down in Houston, Texas, when we occupied well splintered seats in the press box at the Democratic convention. They called it the "press box," because it was so crowded that when you got out you felt like a sardine. But, anyhow, I got to see him pick his teeth with a wooden toothpick, and I know he is good. I sure would like to see him, but would suggest that the next time you have any recommendations of that nature you deliver them to me direct. You know I hate to be treated like the kids who are taken to town on circus day and made to believe that the parade is all there is to it.

It's funny just how seriously some folks take their golf. The other day I happened to be standing near one of the Greencastle Country Club golf experts when he took a swing at something—from results I thought he was trying to kill a mole—but from the things he said I realized that in reality he was trying to hit a golf ball. And such language. It went something like this: "0 & 6 % 1 * 6 %".

MRS. GOODHUE IS MOURNED BY
NATION TODAYMOTHER OF MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE
PASSES AWAY IN HOSPITAL
FOLLOWING EXTENSIVE
ILLNESS—DAUGHTER AT BEDSIDE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—(INS)—Mrs. Lemira Barrett Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, will be laid to rest beside her husband, Captain Andrew L. Goodhue, in the Goodhue family lot in the cemetery at Burlington, Vt.

As the nation today joined with the former president and his wife in mourning the passing of Mrs. Goodhue, who, at the age of eighty, last night succumbed to a two-year battle against influenza and old age, preparations were made for the funeral. Tomorrow was set as the tentative date for the services which will be held at the Coolidge house on Massagott street.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—(INS)—The nation today joined Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in mourning the death Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, mother of the wife of the former president of the United States.

Mrs. Goodhue, 79 years of age, passed away here last night at the Coolidge-Dickinson hospital where she had been a patient for nearly two years. Mrs. Coolidge was at the bedside when the end came, having been there since early afternoon.

Mrs. Goodhue had been a patient at the hospital since Dec. 11, 1927, when she suffered an attack of influenza. Relying, she relapsed due to old age and had several sinking spells which brought Mrs. Coolidge from Washington to her mother's bedside.

Since their return from the White House, the former president and his wife had spent several hours each day at the hospital.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were keenly affected by Mrs. Goodhue's death.

Mrs. Lemira Barrett Goodhue was born in Nashua, N. H., in 1850 of sturdy New England stock. When Mrs. Goodhue was still a young girl her parents moved to Burlington, Vt., where she attended the public school and where she spent the greater part of her life. She was married to Andrew L. Goodhue in 1878. Mrs. Coolidge, their only child, was born in 1879.

Mrs. Goodhue continued to live in Burlington until the death of her husband six years ago when she moved to Northampton to live at the Coolidge home.

On her visit to her daughter at the capital she was described as the picture of motherliness and a bright conversationalist.

COAST GUARD
CREWS SEARCH
FOR 52 BODIESCAR FERRY MILWAUKEE BELIEVED TO HAVE FOUNDERED AND SUNK WITH ENTIRE CREW IN LAKE MICHIGAN

FIVE BODIES RECOVERED

Owners of Ship Have Practically Given up Hope that Vessel Is Still Afloat—Find Wreck—age

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Coast guard crews of four Lake Michigan cities were to combine forces today in a search for bodies of the car ferry Milwaukee, believed to have foundered and sunk with its crew of fifty-two men in the worst storm that has swept the lake region in thirty years.

Five bodies, two encased in life preservers bearing the lost ship's name, have been picked up by ships off Kenosha, Wis.

None of these bodies have been definitely identified. Officials of the Grand Trunk railway, owners of the Milwaukee have practically given up hope that the ship is still afloat and coast guard crews are certain that the entire crew was lost when the ship, battered to pieces by the gale and high waves, went to the bottom of the lake.

The motor ship Steel Chemist picked up first two bodies between Kenosha and Racine, Wis., ten miles off shore, when the boat docked here with the bodies its crew reported sighting pieces of floating debris, a floating mattress and part of a shattered pilot house.

Coach guardsmen at Kenosha discovered two bodies in practically the same lane as the first ones were found. The fifth body was picked up by the steamer Albert Gary.

The crew of the U. S. engineering tug Elder reported sighting a screen door, part of a galley, a chair and a saxophone case, all believed to be from the Milwaukee.

A watch found on one of the bodies had stopped at 8:35. The ill-fated ship left Milwaukee Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock for Grand Haven, Mich., carrying twenty-seven loaded freight cars.

It is believed that lurching of the storm-tossed ship wrenched the cars loose from the rails in the hold of the ferry, causing it to tilt and founder.

Damage amounting to millions of dollars has been reported from shore line cities on both sides of the lake.

Waves have destroyed houses, torn shore drives and, smashed, breakwaters in Chicago, Milwaukee and smaller cities.

Thirteen men were taken from the Wooden freighter N. J. Nessen off Leamington, Ont., before it was battered to pieces.

Rescuers saved twenty three persons from the S. S. Maple Court which grounded on magnetic reef in upper Lake Huron.

Thirty two men of the crew remained aboard the William B. Pilkey, an ore carrier aground near Detroit, Mich., as rescue ships stood by to give assistance.

21 PUTNAM CO.
STUDENTS ARE
SCHOLARSWILL HELP OBSERVE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF EDWARD RECTOR SCHOLARSHIP
FOUNDATION ON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

86 COUNTIES REPRESENTED

Scholarships Valued at $200 Each Pay All Tuition and Fees for Entire Four Years

Twenty-one Rector scholars from Putnam county are on the DePauw University campus this year to help observe the tenth anniversary of the Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation.

This foundation, the largest of its kind in the world, was established by the late Edward Rector, wealthy Chicago attorney, in 1919. The original investment called for funds to maintain 400 scholarships in perpetuity. The organization has since grown until there are more than 550 on the campus this year and 270 were awarded in the freshman class. In addition six Fellowships are now granted to seniors to enable them to carry on their work, some in European universities.

Dr. Henry B. Longden, vice-president of DePauw and director of the scholarship foundation since its birth, has done much toward making the scholarships in great demand. Only the upper third of each high school graduating class is considered for these awards.

This great scholarship foundation was not the only gift of Mr. Rector who also built Rector Hall, Lucy Rowland Hall and Longden Hall, the three fine dormitories on the DePauw campus. The first two are for women and were named after Mr. and Mrs. Rector. The third is a men's dormitory and was named for Dr. Longden, director of the foundation.

When the Edward Rector scholarships were first offered in 1919, there were 47 scholarships given out. The first class in which a Rector scholar was graduated was in 1922 when two women, honor graduates in their class, were awarded special scholarships. These women were Edith Richards, Newcastle, Ind., and Judith Sollenberger of Louisville, Ky.

The Foundation was designed for men but the student having the highest average in each class is awarded a scholarship annually and irrespective of sex.

Since the scholarships were first offered ten years ago 541 Rector scholars have received diplomas from DePauw University. Starting with a class of two in 1921, the class of 1927 had 111 Rector scholars and the class that graduated last June had 107. There are 90 members of the present senior class holding scholarships.

In school this year 86 of 92 counties in Indiana are represented, 16 of 48 states and three foreign countries have students who are Rector men. The Foundation has materially raised the scholastic standing of the entire school. These scholarships are attractive being valued at $800 each. They pay all expenses of tuition and fees for the entire four years providing the student maintains a certain average in grades.

The Putnam county students at DePauw this year who are Rector scholars are:

Joseph P. Allen, Greencastle. Ira Black, Greencastle. Max Bowman, Greencastle. Robert Bruner, Greencastle. Be: Buis, Coatesville. Floyd Call, Roachdale. Hale Cowling, Greencastle. Bowne Eckardt, Greencastle. Harry Eggers, Roachdale. Harold Garriott, Roachdale. Cyril Johnson, Russellville. Amos Light, Greencastle. Francis McClure, Cloverdale. Paul Marsteller, Russellville. John Ogles, Greencastle.

EVENT ALREADY
DRAWS ENTRIESCOUNTY CHAMPION TO BE SELECTED
NOVEMBER 2 IN CONTEST
ON CORNIE BUIS FARM—ORVA
KELLER TO FEED CONTESTANTS—EIGHT ALREADY ENTERED

With between eight and ten contestants already entered, indications today were that there will be a big number of Putnam County men in the first County corn husking contest to be held on the farm of Cornie Buis, 2 1/2 miles north of Belle Union, Saturday, November 2.

Orva Keller, Belle Union merchant, has made arrangements to provide the contestants food and coffee during the contest. Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded the best husker and he also will be in line for the state contest to be held in Shelby County on November 6. The ten best county huskers picked on the records made in county contests, will compete with Cecil Miles, state champion of 1928, for the championship. The state winner will enter the national contest at Platte County, Missouri, November 15.

The object of the contest shall be to determine the contestant who can husk into a wagon, husking two rows at a time, the largest amount of ear corn, and who shall at the same time, husk all the ears on the land covered, such corn being reasonably free from husks, in the allotted time of one hour and 20 minutes. Friends of huskers may coach him but any attempt to rattle him is not allowable. Each husker shall have a driver and shall regulate the height of his own bang-board.

The contestant credited with the largest number of pounds of ear corn husked in one hour and 20 minutes, after deducting such amounts as may be necessary on account of corn left unhusked in the field, or on account of excessive amount of husks left on the ears in the wagon, shall be declared the winner.

Walter Olson, of Illinois, winner of the 1928 mid-west contest, husked 26.62 bushels in this time. Other contestants ranged down to the lowest amount, 16.28 bushels.

Persons interested in the contest should see County Agent Floyd Miller for entry blanks and more detailed information.

ALBERT FALL FOUND GUILTY
AFTER 23 HOURSSOME OF HARSHNESS OF VERDICT
REMOVED WHEN JURY
RECOMMENDS MERCY—
VERDICT A STUNNING
BLOW

HAD EXPECTED ACQUITTAL

Thin Face of Aged Defendant Expressionless as Verdict is Read—Jury Is Polled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Eight men and four women today found former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall guilty of having accepted a $100,000 bribe from E. L. Doheny, California oil baron, in exchange for an invaluable lease on the naval oil reserves.

It took the jury 23 hours and 50 minutes to reach its verdict.

Some of the harshness in the guilty verdict was removed, however, by the fact that the jury recommended mercy.

The ex-cabinet officer faces a maximum penalty of three years in the penitentiary and a fine of three times the amount of the bribe—$300,000.

The government's counsel announced after court adjourned that Doheny will be brought to trial for bribery soon after the first of the year. Fall's conviction made that inevitable, as if Fall was guilty of accepting a bribe, Doheny presumably was guilty of giving it.

Mark H. Thompson, Fall's personal attorney, collapsed in the courtroom shortly after the verdict was rendered.

It is considered extremely doubtful, however, that the maximum penalty will be assessed because of the jury's recommendation of mercy.

The verdict was a stunning blow to the aged defendant, to his "old friend," E. L. Doheny, who contended that the $100,000 was just "a loan from one old friend to another"; and to Fall's counsel. All had confidently expected a verdict of acquittal.

Frank J. Hogan, chief of the defense counsel, who once won acquittal for Fall and Doheny on a conspiracy charge, involving the same evidence that was presented in this trial, immediately demanded that the jury be polled.

Fall received the verdict slumped in the invalid's chair which he has occupied through the trial. His head was bowed, and his thin face, beneath its thinning white hair was expressionless.

Mrs. Fall also received the news stoically but Mrs. C. C. Chase, their daughter, broke down and sobbed hysterically as the realization that her father was convicted dawned upon her.

Thomas Norris, 29, bank teller, announced the verdict as foreman of the jury.

The poll then followed and each member as his or her name was called, responded guilty with a recommendation of mercy.

LITTLE HOPE REMAINS FOR OCEAN FLYER

RADIO MESSAGES TELLING OF FINDING OF WRECKAGE OF PLANE IN MID-OCEAN PROVE UNAUTHENTIC—FAMILY STILL RETAINS HOPE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Hardly an iota of hope remained today for the safety of Urban F. Diteman, Billings, Mont., cattle man, who left Harbor Grace, N. F. Tuesday on a solo-flight to London and hasn't been heard from since.

Reports of radio messages telling of the finding of wreckage in mid-ocean thought to have been parts of the tiny black and orange monoplane Golden Hind proved unauthentic and revived hope for Diteman died out with denials of the reports.

There are some who still feel that Diteman may have landed on some isolated spot or might have been picked up by a ship equipped with radio apparatus, but even these admit the chances that it is safe are slim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—(INS)—Faith in the "iron nerve" of Urban Diteman, American flier who disappeared in the North Atlantic, today was still buoying up the hopes of his family.

Belief that the lone aviator will be finally found safe was expressed by Irwin Evans, a brother of Diteman's wife.

"His nerve will pull him through," Evans declared. "He will find a way out of whatever trouble he is in. Diteman confided his plans to my sister but to no one else."

"It was his plan and he financed it himself. We believe there is a possibility that he was driven far north of his intended course and will be found on some out of the way island."

CUBS PLAY AT BLOOMFIELD; DEPAUW HERE

GREENCASTLE HAS THREE DAYS OF PRACTICE THIS WEEK IN PREPARATION FOR GAME TOMORROW—FRANKLIN TO OPPOSE METHODISTS ON BLACK-STOCK FIELD

The Greencastle players will leave about 10 o'clock Saturday morning for Bloomfield which is the county seat of Green county. The game with Crawfordsville here next Friday will end the high school grid season unless a post-season game with Brazil is arranged.

Coach W. L. Hughes is uncertain regarding the DePauw lineup against Franklin here tomorrow due to injuries suffered by members of the team in the Purdue game last week. Those injured include Stegall, center; Leahy, tackle; Struck, tackle; and VanRiper, quarter. Coach Hughes is not expecting much difficulty with the Baptists and has also been pointing his squad for the Butler game a week from Saturday.

High School Party Proved Gala Affair

About a hundred and twenty-five students and faculty members attended the sophomore high school party at which the members of the freshman class were guests, at the high school gymnasium Thursday evening. The party was a masked Hallowe'en affair.

The gymnasium was decorated in pumpkins and orange crepe paper streamers hung from the lights.

The first feature of the evening was the choosing of the best masked boy and girl, who were then crowned king and queen and from a throne were master of ceremonies for the remainder of the party. Martha Ellen Rector was made queen and George Brown, king. Miss Rector was presented with an incense burner and George Brown was presented with an Eversharp pencil. Many clever costumes were worn by the boys and girls.

The crowd was divided into four groups and each group took part in a different contest, and when that contest was finished they were taken to another contest until all had participated in the four contests which were apple bobbing, peanut, marshmallow, and all-day sucker contests.

Late in the evening several took part in dancing. Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. Miriam Bantz was general chairman in charge of arrangements; Caroline Ellis was chairman in charge of decorations; Elizabeth Rariden, refreshments and Martha Ellen Rector, chairman in charge of the program.

Morning Musicales Meets Wednesday

The Greencastle Morning Musicales met with Miss Sollenberger at the home of Mrs. C. C. Hurst on Wednesday morning. In answer to the roll call the members offered terms of musical interest, some of them calling attention to the frequent recitals offered in Greencastle by members of the DePauw Music School, as well as to the attractions that have been announced from Indianapolis. Miss Sollenberger read a paper on the development of the folk song, in which she described the chief distinctions between the folk song and the art song, the history of the development of melody through the dance and the folk song, the characteristics of folk songs peculiar to the various nations, and recent revival of interest in the folk song, which has led to the publication of many new volumes of these songs. The following program was given to illustrate Miss Sollenberger's paper:

French songs—Mrs. Gillen.
The Straw Cutter's Daughter.
King Renand.
When the Nightingale Shall Sing.
Spanish—Mrs. O. H. Smith, Mrs. W. F. Mitchell.

OPINION seems to be unanimous that a fresh new type of motor car has arrived—a new generation—bringing new grace and smartness to the highways of the world. And it is true. Both in styling and performance, the new 1930 Nash "400s" are decidedly unusual, unusually fine. The three new motors which power these newest Nash cars are truly amazing in their smoothness, their quietness and their eager, dynamic spirit. A list of the 1930 Nash "400" features reveals countless other structural and performance advancements now introduced to motoring by these surpassing motor cars. They were built for leadership, and, in the opinion of motorists who have seen or driven them, leadership is theirs!

THE GRANADA
Hoot Gibson Coming In First
Western Talking Picture
Hoot Gibson comes to the Granada theatre Saturday in "The Long, Long Trail." Universal's high-powered riding, fighting, romantic picture of the West. It is a talking picture.
All the ingredients that go to make up the best action picture are in this production. Hoot is seen at his best in a hard-riding, hard-fighting role, with plenty of humor interspersed to keep the balance even.
Hoot plays the part of a cracker-jack cowboy who gets into all sorts of complications through his love for a girl and his desire to win a rodeo sweepstakes race for his ranch. There is plenty of villainy afoot to keep things interesting at all stages of the game.

Some corking rodeo scenes are incorporated in the picture. Gibson and the entire company traveled hundreds of miles to the big rodeo at Salinas, Cal., and remained there for a week, to insure getting plenty of real rodeo atmosphere. Gibson is an expert on rodeo stuff, having once carried off the all-around championship at the Pendleton Roundup.

Charming and petite Sally Eilers plays opposite Gibson in "The Long, Long Trail."
"College Love," the super-special all-talking and singing campus hit will play its final times tonight.

DUZER DU WILL PRESENT "SUN UP"

Gladys Rohrig of Brazil, and Chester Osgood of Springfield, Mass. have been given the leading roles for the first Duzer Du dramatic production at DePauw University. The play chosen is "Sun Up" which will be presented in the Little Theater here November 7 and 8.

Miss Rohrig will play the part of the Widow Cagle and Mr. Osgood that of Pap Todd. Franklin Cole of Winona Lake, will portray the part of Rufe Cagle, son of the Widow Cagle. The parts of Emma and Bud Todd, children of Pap Todd, will be taken by Eva Robinson of GreenCastle and Wright Neal of Whites-town. The rest of the cast has been but tentatively chosen.

"Sun Up" is a tragedy in three acts. It is the story of ignorant mountaineers and their conception of war. Rufe, a rough mountaineer farmer, enlists in the army contrary to the wishes of his mother who feels that he should search for the murderers of his father.

Later, after hearing of her son's death, Mrs. Cagle has an opportunity to kill the son of her husband's murderer. Her action in this crisis depends on a decision made for the good of all characters concerned in the story.

The talent that Duzer Du places on these campus productions is rated as among the highest in college dramatic circles. "Sun-Up" is the first of a series of productions that have been planned for this year. For the first time season tickets are being sold for the entire series.

All high schools of Putnam county this year are publishing high school newspapers. Each school has its editorial staff and publishes news of general interest to the school. Although this is the first year Reelsville has published a school paper most of the other four-year schools have published them for some time. The papers give the students valuable training in gathering and writing news. Bainbridge publishes "The Mirror," Fillmore publishes "The Comrade," Russellville the "R. H. S. The best that can be had on a fine arts program is in contract form.

Six such outstanding productions will be brought to the DePauw campus this year. Following Tony Sarg's Marionettes the schedule shows The Aguilar Lute quartette here November 21, Ralph Dennis, January 17; the Redoff Quartette of Russian Singers here February 5 and the Ben Greet Players here February 15. The sixth production for which no date has been set is the Acapella choir of Northwestern University.

NEWEST TYPES OF LOCOMOTIVES FOR MONON RAILROAD

NEW ENGINES TO BE DELIVERED TO COMPANY FIRST OF WEEK —LOCOMOTIVE CAPABLE OF DEVELOPING TRACTIVE POWER OF 5,000 TONS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 25.—W. A. Callison, superintendent of motive power, and J. P. Christiansen, chief mechanical engineer, of the Monon railroad, have designed a new and improved type of locomotive known as the Mikado J-4 type. The railroad some weeks ago placed an order with the American Locomotive company for ten of the engines, and delivery will start the first of the week.

The new engine embodies all of the latest innovations known to locomotive builders and under ordinary conditions will develop a tractive power of approximately 5,000 tons which equal eighty heavily-loaded cars, and will handle the load at much higher rate of speed than any engine now in use on the Monon.

The length of the engine and tender is eighty-five feet over all; height fifteen feet six inches, and width, eleven feet. It has eight drivers which measure sixty-three inches over the tire. The boiler, which is of the latest design, is 30 per cent more powerful than any now in use. Under a full head, 220 pounds of steam it will develop 3,000 h. p.

A booster under the cab and fire box gives the locomotive tractive power of 11,000 pounds or 12 per cent in starting a load or in pulling a train up grade. It is automatically controlled by the speed of the train. When starting a load, the booster is thrown into gear and as the train gains speed it is thrown out of gear.

The cab has one of the newest air-brake valve controls which eliminates all pipes from the cab. According to the designers this valve is the only one now in use on locomotives in the United States. Also the use of all controls and valves in the cab are marked which facilitates the handling of the engine.

The tender holds 12,000 gallons of water and 20 tons of coal which equal about 70 tons of fuel and water. The total weight of the tender is about 240,000 pounds and the total weight of the engine is approximately estimated at 330,000 pounds.

SUFFERED SEVERE STOMACH TROUBLE AFTER EACH MEAL

Indigestion and Gas Bloating Ended By New Konjola; Now Enjoys Glorious Health

MR. ROBERT HALL

"For three years my health seemed to be getting worse all the time," said Mr. Robert Hall, 816 South Chapin street, South Bend, Indiana. "The condition of my stomach was frightful, and after each meal I suffered bloating and indigestion spells. The pains felt like sharp knives gouging into my sides and body. My heart seemed to flutter and palpitate whenever one of those smothering spells came over me."

"Konjola was recommended and I did not hesitate to give it a trial. Right from the very start, Konjola started to work. My appetite began to increase and I had a real desire for food. The indigestion pains and gas bloating disappeared. In fact, every one of the miseries I used to suffer because of the stomach trouble have vanished. I feel better in every way. I shall always endorse this medicine to everyone who is suffering as I once did."

Konjola is sold in Greencastle at Owl drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

ALLEGED HOME WRECKER. WOMAN DENIED CHARGES OF VENUE: KILLER FREED

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 24.—Overruling a motion for a change of venue Judge Edgar A. Rice, in the Montgomery Circuit court this afternoon set the case of Charles Carter for Monday after Judge Rice had denied the defense motion. Carter and Alma Grimes, who face statutory charges, entered pleas of not guilty. The case of Mrs. Grimes will be disposed of after the Carter hearing is ended. The two cases are an outgrowth of the Perl Grimes murder case heard here recently and ending in the acquittal of Grimes on a charge of slaying Virgil Young, 20-year-old farm hand, at the Grimes home. Following his arrest Grimes charged that he intended to kill Carter, whom he declared broke up his home and alienated the affections of his wife. Soon after Grimes was taken into custody Carter and Mrs. Grimes were lodged in jail on the statutory charge.

YOUNG OAKLEY IS FATALITY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 24.—An 18-year-old youth was fatally injured, and his girl companion was in a serious condition, as the result of a speedy automobile ride through the north part of the city early this morning, which was climaxed when the car skidded and crashed into a telephone pole at Fifth street and the Big Four railroad.

Lester Oakley, 18 years old, the son of Wesley H. Oakley, 1250 Lafayette avenue, superintendent of the Oakley Economy Stores, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning. He suffered a fractured skull and other injuries; Lucille Hornback, 15 years old, 2625 north Eighth street, is in a serious condition as the result of injuries to her back.

According to reports obtained by police, the party were traveling in a Ford roadster at a high rate of speed and was going north in Fifth street, when the car skidded and crashed into a telephone pole, snapping it in two and completely demolishing the auto.

SONATA RECITAL GIVEN BY COMPETENT ARTISTS

The recital played last evening by Professors Leach and Sheffield brought home the fact that in the hands of competent artists, the sonata recital may attain to an intimacy and beauty of interpretation of the highest order.

The program opened with a seldom played sonata by Beethoven, lovely in its sparkling Mozartian joy of life. There is little of the late Beethoven in this work, but rather a culmination of the tendencies of the age preceding his.

This was followed by an interesting Sonatina by Chavez, a young Mexican composer of growing reputation. To say that this work maintains throughout the highest level of excellence is to exaggerate, but the work is at least healthy in its stirring dissonances. One felt in the pages following the hectic Scherzo a fine introspective repose seldom attained by modern composers.

Greig's lyrical C minor sonata brought the recital to a close. Grieg's art is always certain in its appeal, combining as it does wistful tenderness with great vivacity of rhythm.

Little need be said concerning the performance of the above works. Suffice it to mention that the Chavez number was repeated, as was also the slow movement of the Grieg sonata.
